The Customer shall pay to the Company the reasonable costs of storing, protecting and preserving such Products after the expiry of such period of 28 (twenty-eight) days.

- 4.13 Until such time as the legal and beneficial interest in the Products passes to the Customer, the Company shall be entitled at any time to require the Customer (at the Customer's cost) to deliver up the Products to the Company at its nominated location and, if the Customer fails to do so without delay, to enter upon any Customer Premises or the premises of any third party where the Products are stored and remove and repossess such Products.
- 4.14 The Customer shall not, without the prior written consent of the Company, pledge or in any way charge by way of security for any indebtedness, or alter or modify, any Products that remain the property of the Company, but if the Customer does so all monies owing by the Customer to the Company shall (without prejudice to any right or remedy of the Company) immediately become due and payable.
